CHRISTMAS PARTY

TUESDAY AFTERNOON CLUB ENTERTAINS GLENDALE AND LOS ANGELES CHILDREN

A beautiful Christmas party for the children of members and for little ones at the Kings' Daughters' Day Nursery in Los Angeles, who were special guests, was given Tuesday afternoon by the Tuesday Afternoon Club—a group of its members donating their services and machines to convey the Los Angeles children to and from Glendale.

The program was furnished by pupils of Miss Edith Lindsay's dancing class and it was staged in the center of the hall around a beautiful, big, shining Christmas tree which had been loaned for the occasion by Mrs. W. E. Evans, who had charge of the affair. Miss Coral Griffith, chairman of decoration, and her committee had enjoyed the task of trimming it and of making the hal beautiful and fragrant with Christmas greens.

The children were arranged in a ring like a kindergarten circle around the tree and the following program of fancy dancing was given:

Bird Dance by Carmen de Lara, Gavotte and Humoresque by Jane Gay Davis and her brother, Morton Davis; Moonbeam Dance by Barbara Chandler; and "The Spirit of Christmas" by Miss Lindsay herself, charmingly costumed in white tarleton, the dance accompanied by a jingle of sleigh bells.

Then there were games in which all the children took part, under the supervision of Miss May Cornwell and Miss Ruby Dale. At the close of the program the chairman of the Hospitality Committee, Mrs. A. D. McCoy, assisted by Mrs. Sinclair, served to all the children cornucopias of ice cream and bags of candy, and gifts distributed from the tree there being enough to provide each child with two each, and a machine full left to be carried to the nursery for other tots there.

Those who furnished machines to convey the Los Angeles children were: Mrs. Charles Toll, Mrs. A. W. Beach, Mrs. Oliver Clark, Mrs. Mabel Rudy, Miss Reed, Mrs. W. E. Evans, and Mrs. Cameron Thom, J. H. Franklin. Mr. Hesse, proprietor of the Glendale Variety Store, generously gave a big box of toys for the children, and Mr. E. R. Naudain furnished the electric light bulbs with which the tree was illuminated.

C. O. PULLIAM MOVES

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Pulliam, who have been living at 320 North Central Avenue and who have disposed of their property there, moved yesterday to their new location at 338 Pioneer Drive, where they will build without delay. They are at present sheltered in a commodious two-room garage which they will occupy until the home they are to build is ready for them.

DISAPPOINTED

A. M. Wetton returned from Seattle Tuesday to join his family and celebrate Christmas with them after an absence of nine months, only to learn that the house they had been occupying at 1129 North Louise Street had been sold and they were forced to vacate it at once. There appeared to be no shelter in Glendale to which he could take them and he was facing the possibility of having to seek quarters in a Los Angeles hotel.

FAMILY CHRISTMAS

MR. AND MRS. E. U. EMERY WILL ENTERTAIN GROUP OF RELATIVES

Mr. and Mrs. E. U. Emery will be host and hostess at quite a family gathering on Christmas day when they will entertain at a mid-day dinner which will be followed by a social afternoon. Christmas wreaths are already being placed for the decorations which will be installed in honor of the event, and poinsettias will center the board at which covers will be laid for Dr. and Mrs. A. L. Bryant and sons Dean, Hugh and Albert, Mr. and Mrs. John G. Ferguson, their daughter, Esther Ferguson, Mr. and Mrs. Harry P. Johnston, Mrs. Hattie Johnston, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Smith, Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Smith from Berkeley, Dana Burket, Mr. and Mrs. E. U. Emery and their children Waunita, Owen, Gilbert, Josephine and Olive Belle. Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Smith arrived a few days ago and will be guests in the Emery home until Sunday afternoon.

CHRISTMAS BREAKFAST

OLD FASHIONED SOUTHERN CELEBRATION IN HOME OF J. ALLEN LEGGE

Mr. and Mrs. J .Allen Legge of 208 West Chestnut Street will be host and hostess this year at an old fashioned southern Christmas breakfast and dinner. The celebration will be in charge of their house guest, Mrs. M. S. Legge of Washington, D. C., mother of J. A. Legge, who is experienced in the real thing. It will begin with the singing of Christmas carols around the Christmas tree before breakfast is served and when the guests gather around the table for the meal it will be to enjoy sugar-cured ham ordered from a Virginia plantation. Fat turkeys will be the foundation of the mid-day feast. Christmas greens are being hung and decorations are ready for the big tree which will be loaded with gifts as guests have been busy for the past month in anticipation of the function and many remembrances will be exchanged. The guest list will include Mrs. M. S. Legge of Washington, D. C., the aunt and cousin of the hostess, Mrs. J. P. Johnson and Mrs. Robert Johnson and two sons, Robert and Billy Johnson, an aunt from San Francisco, Mrs. Meron Palmenteer, Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Pulliam, parents of the hostess, and their daughter, Miss Myrtle Pulliam, and little John Allen Legge, Jr., who will be a center of attention on this holiday, which means so much to children.

CHRISTMAS DANCE

Miss Jane Snyder was hostess at a pretty Christmas party which took place at her home on Arden Avenue. Guests of honor were Miss Anabel McClellan, who has just returned from Mills College, San Francisco, for the holidays, and Miss Marcella Orth, who has come home from quite an extended visit in the east. Other guests were Misses Elizabeth Allen, Louise Gonzales, Hattie Orth, Viola Yorba, Evelyn Williams, Mary Logan, Mesdames McClellan and Orth, Messrs. Warren Meeker, Ralph Miles, Verne Nyman, Fred Wilson, Tom Middlekauf, Ernest Martinez, Paul Williams, Paul Smith, Marshall Pearson, Arville Williams, Leonard Pyles, Albert Townsend, Edward Shirley, and Frank Liddell. The evening was devoted to dancing, for which music was furnished by Ernest Martinez and Frank Liddell at the piano and Tom Middlekauff at the violin, who also gave solo numbers for the entertainment of the company at intermissions, and they were relieved from time to time by the Victrola so they could participate in the dancing program. Vocal solos were also given by Miss Yorba.

The hostess had beautifully decorated her home for the occasion with Christmas greens and other decorations in the Christmas colors and light refreshments were served.

HOME FOR THE HOLIDAYS

The return of students from various California colleges and of graduates who have taken business positions from which they have secured Christmas vacations to be spent with parents and friends here, is enough in itself to insure a Merry Christmas to Glendale. The list of these welcome visitors includes:

From Berkeley—Marjorie Imler, Margaret, Dottie and Rebecca Gregg, Walter Beach. Anabel McClellan is here from Mills College, San Francisco; Louise Gonzales from Occidental; Carol Willisford and Helen Reynolds from Pomona; Margaret Lusby, Martha Ray, Mansford Barnes, Ralph Salstrom, Kenneth Perrin, Gilbert Emery, Doliver Webb and Lavere Kitterman from University of Southern California; and Elaine Hudson, Marcella Miller, Louise Hester, Esther Schremp, Philip Wernette and several others from the Southern California Branch of U. C.

Others in business life who have been welcomed include: Arville Williams, Paul Smith, Fred Wilson, who have been north in the oil fields. Leota Snyder, who has been teaching in Arizona will soon be here.

IMPROVING HER HOME

Mrs. R. McBride of 908 South Central Avenue is having her property at 737 South Maryland Avenue repainted and tinted. A large back porch also is being built. A fence is being constructed around the back yard. The work was begun a week ago last Friday and will be finished in a short time, according to painters and carpenters now at work on the house.

LORD NORTHCLIFF SUPPORTS GOVERNMENT

INDORSEMENT OF IRISH PROGRAM INTERPRETED TO MEAN HEALING OF NORTHCLIFF-GEORGE BREACH

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, Dec. 24.—Observers here see in the support which the Northcliff press is giving the government's home rule program indications that the breach between Lord Northcliff and Lloyd George is being healed.

MEXICAN GOVERNMENT STILL INVESTIGATING

COMPLAINTS TO BE FILED WITH DEPARTMENT OF STATE CHARGING AMERICAN TARGET PRACTICE DISTURBES

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 24.—The two American sailors who have been held in jail at Mazatlan, were released yesterday. The Mexicans are continuing their investigation. A complaint to the State Department is being prepared charging that American war ships in Tampico are disturbing that region with their target practice.

MEXICAN INTEREST IN AMERICAN POLITICS

CARRANZA BELIEVED TO BE STUDYING CAREFULLY THE ATTITUDE OF ALL PRESIDENTIAL POSSIBILITIES

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LAREDO, Tex., Dec. 24—Mexico is fully as interested in American national politics as are the Americans. This was learned by the United Press correspondent who has just completed a two weeks' trip through northern Mexico. The Mexican interest is due to the general belief that the presidential election will have an important effect on Mexican-American relations. The Mexicans are eagerly seeking any information touching on the political situation and are especially interested in the campaign of General Leonard Wood. It may be assumed that Carranza is studying carefully the attitude of each American presidential possibility.

In the meantime American diplomats are at a loss as to how to improve Carranza's attitude towards American protests against outrages. Even formal courtesies have been overlooked by the Mexican foreign office. For instance, the last note on the Jennings case was given to the press before it was delivered to the American embassy.

PEACE CONFERENCE ASSIGNS MANDATORIES

GERMAN SOUTH AFRICAN COLONIES GIVEN TO ENGLAND AND BELGIUM; NO DECISION ON PACIFIC POSSESSIONS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

PARIS, Dec. 24.—The peace conference has started considering a complete program for assigning mandatories on former German possessions. At this morning's session Belgium and England were assigned mandatories over the German South African colonies. At the request of the Japanese delegation the disposition of the Pacific possessions was postponed. The Japanese delegation is awaiting instructions from Tokio.

ARMS EMBARGO TIGHTENED

STATE DEPARTMENT ISSUES ORDERS TO CANCEL JAN. 1 ALL LICENSES FOR MEXICAN SHIPMENTS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 24.—The State Department has ordered the embargo on the shipment of arms and ammunition to Mexico, tightened. Orders have been issued directing that all licenses for the exportation of munitions to Mexico prior to September 30, be cancelled January 1. The announcement did not state the reason.

PERSHING WELCOMED AT LINCOLN

VAST CROWD GATHERS AT STATION AND THOUSANDS ALONG LINE OF MARCH CHEER AT PARADE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LINCOLN, Neb., Dec. 24.—General Pershing and his son Warren arrived here today to spend Christmas. They were given a rousing welcome by a vast crowd at the station. The parade passed through the streets while thousands of onlookers cheered. Every lamp-post bore a picture of General Pershing with a sign, "Welcome" beneath it. Pershing's friends stretched a big "Pershing for President" banner across the street. The general will visit his sisters here during the Christmas holidays.

CANADIAN STRIKE LEADER TRIED

HEAD OF GENERAL STRIKE OF LAST MAY FOUND GUILTY OF SEDITION AFTER 28-DAY TRIAL

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WINNIPEG, Manitoba, Dec. 24.—R. B. Russell, leader of the Winnipeg general strike last May, was found guilty today of sedition. He was the first of twelve strike-leaders under arrest to be tried. His trial lasted twenty-eight days.

IMPORTANT SALE

CHAFFEE BUILDING ON BRAND BECOMES THE PROPERTY OF LOCAL CAPITALISTS

Another important real estate has taken place within the past few days by which the ownership of the Chaffee Building at 106-08 South Brand Boulevard passes from the ownership of Hugh G. Chaffee to a group of Glendale men, viz., W. W. Lee, Ed M. Lee, M. P. Harrison, J. B. Doner and W. F. Hemenway. They will take possession some time between the first of January and the first of February. The Chaffee Grocery will continue to occupy its present location on which it has a five-year lease with an option for five years more. The office now occupied by Whiting & Hawkins will be vacated by them and will become the headquarters for the real estate business of Doner & Hemenway and for W. W. Lee, Ed M. Lee and M. P. Harrison, who will find it a most convenient location on account of its nearness to the First National Bank in which they are still interested.

R. M. Jackson has leased the real estate offices which will be surrendered by Doner and Hemenway on East Broadway.

ENTERTAINS FOR MISS TIPTON

Miss Elis Tipton, a former teacher in Glendale schools, who now lives in Santa Paula, was the guest of Miss Ida M. Waite last week during institute sessions. Thursday evening Miss Waite entertained for her inviting some of her old friends and fellow teachers. The guest list included Misses Ethel Chase, Bessie Ross, Helene Schwartz, Mary Circle, Mrs. Rucker, Mrs. Marie Pierce and of course, Miss Tipton. Christmas greens made a pretty setting for the affair and after an informal evening of games and gossip about old times, refreshments were daintily served by the hostess.

NO PAPER CHRISTMAS

Complying with the established custom of the Evening News there will be no paper published from the office on Christmas Day, as that day is one of the six holidays recognized by the Evening News. The holidays are: Christmas, New Years, Decoration Day, Fourth of July, Labor Day, Thanksgiving.

NO PLACE TO GO

Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Cannaday of 412 West Windsor Road recently sold their six-room home for $4500. About three months ago they came here from Indiana in their machine. They purchased property in Glendale from Mr. Stanford, settled down, and decided that Glendale was a fine place to live. But within a few days they will be forced to move, as the new owner wants possession of the place about the first of the year.

BUILDING A HOME

Last Saturday morning Miss Clarice Dillman arrived here from Pittsburg, Kansas. Saturday evening she became Mrs. John Casteig, Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. John Casteig, Jr., are having a four-room bungalow built for them at 118 West Garfield, which is next door to Mr. Casteig's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Casteig, Sr. The home, which will cost about $2250 when finished, will be completed about the first of February, when Mr. Casteig and his bride expect to occupy the bungalow.

MOTOR FROM SAN FRANCISCO

Kenneth Whaley of 233 North Maryland Avenue left for San Francisco last Thursday. He returned with Henson Garrett last Sunday in Mr. Garrett's machine. They were less than twenty-four hours on the road, including three stops, two of which were for meals. The third stop was necessitated by a tire blow out. The brakes on the car were burned out on a grade just outside of San Francisco, and they were forced to travel the remainder of the way with practically no brakes. They were compelled to travel in the dark without headlights for almost a hundred miles because the lights would not work.

WEATHER FORECAST: Fair tonight and Thursday. No important change in temperature.

CAR FULL OF CHRISTMAS

DR. W. E. EDMONDS TAKES GIFTS FROM SUNDAY SCHOOL TO JUVENILE HALL

About four o'clock Tuesday afternoon the handsome new car of Dr. W. E. Edmonds left Glendale headed for Los Angeles with the doctor at the wheel. Those who had a chance to get a peep at the rear seat discovered that that part of the car was filled with Christmas packages, little and big, but all of them attractively wrapped with fancy seals much in evidence. The doctor expalined that he was on his way to Juvenile Hall, where he had been commissioned to play Santa Claus by the young people of the Presbyterian Sunday school.

About 160 children, wards of the Juvenile Court, are there and there was little chance of a merry Christmas coming their way except in some such guise as this. The doctor said he carried a full Christmas cargo, including candy, apples, oranges, nuts and other goodies, clothing, books, toys, and about $30 is cash.

The children are brought in by the probation officers and Dr. Edmonds brought the matter before the boys and girls of his church, after he had talked with Mrs. W. D. Root of this city, who is one of the probation officers.

FRESH SALES

The B. and M. Realty Company reports several recent sales of real estate as follows:

To Mrs. Tamplin who has been living at 143 North Howard Street, house and lot at 325 North Howard sold by Mrs. Fryer. Mrs. Tamplin expects to get possession the first of the year.

To Mr. and Mrs. Chrisman, who have been living at 918 East Wilson Avenue, property at 465 West Elk Street, purchased from the Walker Investment Company.

To Mr. and Mrs. Thomas, who have recently come to Glendale from Minneapolis, Minn., property at 1204 East Lexington, sold by Mr. and Mrs. Fish.

WORTH WHILE CHRISTMAS GIFT

Messrs. Packer & White Auto Co. have beautifully remembered members of their selling force by gifts of large and handsome brown leather cases in which to carry order blanks and literature. The case in each instance bears the name of the owner in gilt letters. Fortunate recipients were: C. C. Richford, C. D. Shattuck and George H. Wood. They are very much delighted with their gifts.

CHRISTMAS PROGRAMS

CHURCHES CROWDED TO ENJOY ENTERTAINMENTS PUT ON BY SUNDAY SCHOOLS

First Methodist Christmas Exercises

A big audience gathered in the Social Hall of the First Methodist Church Tuesday evening to enjoy the Christmas exercises staged for the pleasure of Sunday School members. There were two handsome Christmas trees and decorations appropriate to the occasion. A. W. Tower, Sunday School Superintendent, announced the program, which was varied and in which all departments were represented. The program included the following numbers:

Chistmas Greetings

The Glendale Evening News extends the warmest of Christmas greetings to its readers. This Christmas finds our country at peace with other nations, although in a state of unrest. Our optimistic friends feel that this condition is temporary and that the old world will again settle down to a staid and commonplace existence. It is doubtful if there were ever such elaborate preparations made for the celebration of this holiday in this country as are being made this year. Let us hope that much of this spirit comes from a realization of what Christmas means to the world rather than to a desire for material pleasures.

Be that as it may, the Christmas spirit is all-pervading and the sense of the nearness of the day makes faces brighter and steps lighter and none can escape the happiness the season brings.

Again we wish you a very Merry Christmas.

HIGH COST OF PRINT PAPER HITS INDUSTRY

Despite the fact that the newspapers of the country are doing a large volume of business, the mounting costs of production, and especially the unprecedented scarcity and price of news print have forced many papers to find salvation in suspension, consolidation or a complete selling out. Latest information along these lines shows that the White Plains, N. Y., Daily Reporter and Daily Argus; Itacha, N. Y., Journal and News; Waukegan, Ill., Gazette and Daily Sun have effected consolidations. The Hartford, Conn., Globe succumbed to the high cost of paper. The Stockton, Ill., News has been entirely discontinued. Both advertising and subscription rates have also been advanced.

Most notable among the recent changes is the suspended publication of the St. Louis Republic, all of its property having been purchased by the publisher of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

MUCH MONEY AND NO COAL SENDS PEOPLE TO CALIF.

The popularity of California this winter has been attracting more than usual attention in the Middle West this season. The heavy travel to the land of sunshine and flowers is creating a great deal of comment.

Observe this dispatch from Kansas City, Mo.:

"The exodus to California is on. One coal strike, plus the coldest early winter in fifteen years, plus much coin, equals a trip to California these days. Extra coaches and extra sections are necessary to handle the rush, similar to that of the 'forty-niners'—only the flow of gold is in the reserve.

"General Passenger Agent H. S. Jones of the Railroad Administration predicts this winter's westward flight will be the 'heaviest California travel ever known here. Many are going who never have gone before.'"

A CAMPAIGN ISSUE

The President's refusal to consider any compromise involving the rejected treaty of peace has surprised nobody who is conversant with late developments in Washington. Indications now point to a general breaking away, on the part of Democratic Senators, from the presidential leadership. It is just as well, we think, that the whole matter be made a campaign issue, and thus settled once for all.—The Tidings.

CHRISTMAS PROGRAM

Recitation by Vivian Melone, "The Telephone Message."

Immediately following this "telephone message" Santa Claus appeared and distributed packages of candy and nuts to all members of the school. Incidentally some very appropriate gifts were made to adult members of the school.

Gifts for the needy consisting of food, money and clothing were brought to be distributed through the Glendale Welfare Council, the money amounting to about $100. About five hundred were present, and it was one of the happiest Christmas celebrations the Sunday School has ever enjoyed.

Congregational Sunday School

Two Christmas celebrations have been held this week at the Congregational Church at the corner of Central and California. Monday afternoon a party was enjoyed by children of the primary department under the supervision of Mrs. E. D. Yard, assisted by Mrs. H. H. Bullinger and Mrs. Pendleton. A fine program was furnished by the children of the department and consisted of songs, recitations and class exercises. Then Miss Dorothy Van Dyke gave an appropriate and very pleasing reading and Dr. Willisford told a Christmas story and described the Christmas he spent in France a year ago. Gifts were brought by the scholars for other children less fortunate, and at the close of the program they were given a treat of home-made candy and crystallized popcorn.

Tuesday night the church was filled to overflowing with members of the Sunday School, the parents and friends of scholars. The auditorium had been beautifully decorated with holly, live oak and pepper boughs by boys in the class of Mrs. Blake Franklin, which made a very pretty setting for the celebration. An excellent program was given which included many pretty Christmas songs.

A special number was the little play, "The Ruggles Family," dramatized from the "Bird's Christmas Carol," and produced by the girls in Mrs. Van Dyke's class with almost professional art. It was a very clever performance.

The boys' class, taught by Mrs. Yarrick, gave an exercise which included Bible quotations.

A class of little girls, taught by Mrs. Bellue, bore letters with which an acrostic spelling Christmas was worked out.

"Christmas Candles" was another pretty exercise put on by members of Mrs. Chapman's class, assisted by others from Mrs. Frazee's class. In this exercise David Chase had the roll of "Firefly," and quite distinguished himself. The girls taking part were dressed in white and wore red sashes and it was very pretty and impressive.

A special feature of the evening was the presentation of gifts for the needy, consisting of food, clothing and toys to be distributed by the Glendale Welfare Council.

Santa Claus arrived as the evening was drawing to a close and gave to each one present a big popcorn ball.

The exercises closed with the singing of a Christmas song and a prayer by the pastor.

Christmas Exercises of the Presbyterian Church and Sunday School.

One of the happiest, best rendered programs in many years was given Tuesday evening at the Presbyterian church. "It is more blessed to give than to receive," was the motto as expressed by gifts of self service and substance, laid at the foot of the cross.

The decorations consisted of a beautiful Christmas tree, dozens of red Christmas bells, clusters of bright poinsettias and a white illuminated Cross. Special attention was given to the lighting, and it helped to make the program quite unique.

Mr. Finlay, our genial efficient superintendent, offered the opening prayer and was followed by a group from the primary. Edith Horne recited. Helen Gilkerson gave a motion song, Mabel Harrison recited and the whole primary class gave their song and gift. Next music was furnished by the orchestra. Mrs. Lawrence's class of boys recited the hymn "Oh, Little Town of Bethehem," each boy reciting his selection. Their gift was a large basket of oranges. A song, "Christmas Fairies," was given by Mrs. Lawrence's class with a gift of money. Mr. Cooper's boys gave the Scripture reading in concert; Miss Field's class sang an old Christmas song and also recited a Scripture selection. Their gift was first self, as each bowed at the cross and then money in three chests.

Miss Winnie Sinclair's boys presented three baskets of fruit with their memory verses. Miss Agnes Tupper recited "The Three Kings." While a Scripture Victrola selection was given, three boys of Mr. Boyd's class presented their gift at the cross. Heathen darkness was typified by a member of the woman's class dressed in a black robe and scarf with an open Bible, but not able to read by the dim light. Light entered and laid its gift at the altar.

A poor, ragged Syrian was given money by a representative of the men's class and invited to join their class. He told of suffering in his native city, Damascus, and money was flung at his feet.

Downcast, weak and hungry a girl from Syria received aid from Liberty with her stars and stripes. These were girls from Miss Wilkins' class.

Our pastor gave the offertory prayer just before the collection was taken. The gifts were all to be sent to the Syrian relief work, such a worthy cause.

The Christmas story in verse and song was given by the Philatheas and the young ladies of Miss Vera Sinclair's class, after a song, presented a garland of red bearing an offering of dollar bills.

Hearty thanks were given to the committee who planned and carried out the program, which taught us the lesson of unselfish giving.

CHRISTMAS PROGRAM

CHURCHES CROWDED TO ENJOY ENTERTAINMENTS PUT ON BY SUNDAY SCHOOLS

An exceedingly pretty and quite dramatic program marked the Christmas celebration at the Baptist Church Tuesday evening. It centered around a little playlet for which the platform was extended to form a stage. Christian Americanization was the theme and on one side of the stage a distressed Polish family was represented, on the other side an American family. The playlet was developed through the Americanization of the Polish family, which climaxes in a Christmas celebration around a Christmas tree, in which the children of the primary and junior departments furnished the program. The church was crowded with an audience which greatly enjoyed the exercises that were pronounced the finest the Sunday school has enjoyed in a number of years. Mrs. J. L. Gray had charge of the program and had reason to feel proud of the manner in which it worked out. Excellent music was furnished by the church orchestra led by Mr. Olin, and Santa Claus came in and distributed bags of candy to the children. Scholars also brought white gifts to be sent to Los Angeles missions.

In the playlet Mr. Galvin took the part of the "Generous Man," J. L. Gray was "Mr. Widevision," Mrs. Galvin was the "Wife of the Generous Man," and Evelyn Hunt and Billy Gray were her two children; Mrs. Doxsee was the "Polish Mother," Miss Doxsee the supposed nurse from the Christian Center, Mr. Abbey the "Big Brother" from the Christian Center, and Esther Louise Olin was the baby in the Polish family.

The program included recitations by Doris Stamps, Billy Garner, Louise Elliott, Ethelwyn Kent, and Howard Kent; songs by Margaret Chase and Sallie Gray of the primary department, and recitation by little Miss Sunderland of the Junior department.

Another outstanding number on the program was the playing of the bagpipes by Mr. Frazier in Scotch costume.

Central Avenue Methodist Church

A delightful program was put on Tuesday evening and the audience which crowded the church enjoyed it to the full.

Two playlets and a tableau were the outstanding features of the program supplemented by recitations, songs, etc. The program in detail consisted of the follow numbers:

Selection by the choir; song and recitation by Anna Louise Muhleman; vocal duet by Esther Besant and Emma Wallace; recitation, Irma Lucas; recitation, Hattie Hyer; recitation, Paul Townsend; song by primary department; dialogue by the Three Shepherds, represented by Messrs. Reichardt, Cameron and Smith. Miss Esther Wilson was the holy messenger, robed in white, who appeared to them and announced the birth of the savior, the choir singing "Glory to God in the Highest," then followed recitations by Wilma Hunt, Alberta Sheers, Ethel West, May Tatham, and songs by Janice Tuttle, and by primary scholars, violin solo by Roger Baker; trio by Roger Baker, violinist, Mrs. Baker, pianiste, Mrs. Klum, cornetist; then came a tableau of the Babe in the Manger, attended by the Wise Men, and the whole Sunday School brought gifts and laid them at the foot of the manger. A playlet by the girls in the Sunday School class of Mrs. Marion Smith completed the program with the exception of the visit of Santa Claus, who distributed candy. The playlet was entitled "The Christmas Fairies," and represented a fireplace with a little girl asleep in her mother's lap. The stockings hang beside the chimney and her dream is visualized by the little girls who come in representing Joy, Generosity, Good Will, Peace, etc., and each recites a little verse. Then Santa comes in and fills the stockings. Mr. Baker contributed much to the program by furnishing a violin obligato to the various tableaus and exercises.

The Joys of Christmas

To all our friends we extend the Heartiest Christmas greetings. May all the joys of the Christmas season be yours and may our pleasant relationship continue the coming year. This is our wish.

CALMNESS TRAIT OF AMERICANS

The calmness of the American people during the recent past and the very trying present is a matter worthy of note. They accepted the steel strike with composure; they are suffering from the coal strike with patience. There is and has been no panic, no excitement, no wild demonstrating such as frequently takes place in countries where the people are not so well poised.

It is not due to indifference; nobody could be indifferent to present conditions. Tremendous losses are being sustained every day—and people are never indifferent to their losses. Great inconvenience is experienced upon every hand, great discomfort goes with the shortage of coal. Yet throughout it all, the nation is calm.

And this very calmness is going to be our salvation. A people who refuse to become excited when disaster falls about them can be depended upon to work out their most complex problems. It is a people who lose their heads that can not be trusted to settle their troubles as they arise.

Faith—that is what it is that governs at this time; faith in the ultimate outcome, faith in the final prevailing of the good sense of employers and employes, faith in the stability of the country, regardless of temporary backsets or untoward outlooks. For surely no one can reflect upon the great possibilities of this country—upon its resources and the character of its people—without having faith that in the end we shall emerge from these troublous times in industrial triumph and social peace and happiness.—Exchange.

YULETIDE SERVICES

Sunday was a full day at the Tropico Presbyterian Church. One hundred and forty members of the Sunday School participated in appropriate Xmas exercises and made an offering to the Syrian orphans.

The pastor took as his morning theme the "Angel's Message—Good Tidings of Great Joy." The choir rendered special Christmas music.

The Christian Endeavorer's topic was "The Christmas Spirit.

In the evening the combined choirs of Normandy M. E. church of Los Angeles and the local church sang a beautiful Cantata, "Prophecy and Fulfillment." The chorus of forty voices and the six soloists interpreted this composition wonderfully and the congregation went away with the memory not only of fine music but of true worship.

AT THIS Christmas time, the happiest and best time of all the year, we take occasion to extend the greetings of the season to our friends and acquaintances and wish you

Mayor Snyder of Los Angeles has bet a hat with Mayor Toomey of Fresno that the 1920 census will show Los Angeles has a 700,000 population.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 24.—(United Press).—Santa Claus will have to take the runners off his sleighs tonight before he can settle down to work. At least he will in the east and south, according to weather bureau officials here today.

The prediction was that there will be snow in the west and northwest sections of the country, but in the east and south it will be unsettled with chances favoring a fair Christmas

THE COMING of CHRISTMAS

IS HERALDED with joy by this institution. The happiest day of the year is that on which we celebrate the Saviour's birth, the day when we most appreciate the blessings of living in a Christian land. As we review the year that has passed since last Christmas day we are deeply grateful for the opportunities we have had to lessen pain, alleviate suffering and save life. We are thankful for every opportunity that comes to do good and at this happy Christmas time we extend to all with whom we have been in any way associated, the heartiest Christmas wishes. :: :: ::

Merry Christmas

As the year 1919 nears its close, we seize this opportunity to thank the patrons of the Palace Grand Theatre for their appreciation of our efforts to conduct a first-class theater; and to wish them all

A Merry Christmas

It is with a good deal of pleasure that we look back over the past year. Our relations with our patrons and with the people of Glendale generally have been so pleasant. We have tried to give Glendale the same theatre accommodations that would be enjoyed in a much larger city and our patrons have shown us in a tangible way that we have "put it across."

Our building was erected, arranged, decorated with the idea of satisfying the aesthetic tastes of those who have been accustomed to the better class of entertainments in the large cities all over the country.

We have secured the "big" films, the pictures that were being talked about and shown them at our regular prices just after they were released and while they were being shown in the largest theatres in Los Angeles. Many times we have secured these big pictures at great expense, financial risk and sometimes loss.

Our nightly changes of program have been an expensive feature, but one we feel that we owe our patrons.

We have interested ourselves in matters of local concern and given the use of our theatre for entertainments of community interest.

WE HAVE TRIED TO GIVE YOU A METROPOLITAN THEATRE IN THE DELIGHTFUL SETTING OF A BEAUTIFUL FOOTHILL CITY

All of these things, we feel have been appreciated, the words of commendation we have heard are all remembered and to our friends we say again, your kindness means much to us and it is our desire to give you our best efforts in the year to come.

CHRISTMAS REFLECTIONS

LOOKING backward over the months that have passed since last Christmas, we are reminded of our happy business relations with many of our fellow citizens, and it affords us wonderful pleasure to know that comfortable Bentley-Built homes are the domiciles of happy families that one year ago could not say on Christmas morning, "This is our home." In these and all other homes in Glendale it is our earnest wish that the true Christmas spirit may prevail at this happy holiday season.

THE CHRISTMAS SPIRIT

Christmas is the holiday in which all participate; the Christmas spirit seems to be a tangible thing extending out and surrounding all. Every-day cares are forgotten and hope and love and good will prevail. Glendale business men are voicing their Christmas wishes to the readers of the Evening News today. Their optimistic outlook is expressed in the following verses written by Douglas Malloch:

The world is getting better all the while—
I feel it in the fellowship of men,
I find it in the gospel of the smile,
The medicine of laughter now and then.
The race goes on, the contest is as keen,
But now it is a race and not a war,
And hours of toil have hours of play between,
For men are getting kinder than before.

The world is getting better, that I know—
For men are getting nearer than of old,
Are finding other pleasures as they go
Along the trail than merely gathered gold.
Not what you have is honored—what you do—
And life has more of love and less of guile;
The brotherhood of men is coming true—
The world is getting better all the while!

CHRISTMAS EXERCISES

One of the finest Christmas programs ever given by the Sunday School of the West Glendale M. E. Church was presented last evening before an audience that taxed the seating capacity of the church. The church was beautifully decorated, a large elaborately trimmed Christmas tree forming a very artistic background to the general effect. The different grades were represented in song and recitation, closing with a beautiful rendition of "Silent Night," with Miss Robinson in costume of an angel and an invisible choir in the distance. Huge offerings were made by the different classes for the poor and needy, and all scholars were presented with a fine box of candy.

HARRY S. NEW TRIAL

NO CHRISTMAS EVE PLEA TO BE MADE BY MRS. LILY BERGER; SESSIONS POSTPONED UNTIL MONDAY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 24.—The opening of the trial of Harry S. New was delayed considerably this morning by the consideration of other matters by Superior Judge Craig.

The original plan to place Mrs. Lily Berger, mother of New, on the witness stand today to make a Christmas eve plea for her son, was abandoned by counsel for the defense who said they thought there was not sufficient time to complete her testimony today.

Clare Butler was placed on the stand to corroborate the testimony given yesterday by his sister, Mrs. Dana Condon by which the defense hopes to impeach the testimony of Mrs. E. L. Sanders who testified for the prosecution.

It is expected no session of the trial will be held after today until Monday.

SECRETARY DANIELS REFUSES TO BE A "RUBBER STAMP" —NAVAL OFFICERS SUPPORT ADMIRAL SIMMS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 24.—It is evident that both sides to the controversy over the awarding of naval medals, plan to fight the issue to a finish. Secretary Daniels today declared that he refused to be a "rubber stamp" in the awarding of honors. Many naval officers are supporting Admiral Simms in his stand against Daniel's awards. Senator Poindexter, a member of the Senate Naval Affairs Committee, said he favored calling Secretary Daniels before the committee together with members of the board who made the recommendations on the distribution of honors, together with all other persons who "could throw light on the subject."

LONDONERS BUY AND BUY FOR CHRISTMAS

(By United Press)

LONDON, (By Mail).—London, spending its first real peace Christmas, is trying to make up for four years of depression and of "Spug" remembrances.

Faced by a fuel shortage, with hundreds of thousands out of employment and with the problem of the "new poor" crying for solution, London has indulged this year in an orgy of Christmas shopping that has the shopkeepers gasping.

There has never been such a Christmas, according to the proprietors and managers of the larger stores. Apparently there is no limit to the buying capacity of the thousands who are crowding all sorts of shops.

Though there is the usual Christmas shopping, the thing that has caused most comment is the purchase of non-essential gifts—jewelry and expensive apparel.

In one exclusive shop, it was the custom in pre-war days to carry in stock perhaps a hundred patterns of wristbags. Today the store carries from 500 to 600 styles and has no difficulty in finding buyers. Prices range up to £50—and there is demand for tortoise-shell hair sets at £100. Dressing or vanity bags range up to £240.

One indication that Londoners have forgot the war is the widespread sale of the writing pads brought out during the recent unpleasantness for trench correspondence. The pads are the same with touches of superfine leather added—and they sell now for £2.

Extravagant buying has spread to all classes. While part of London is being extravagant by buying writing pads at £2, the exclusive part is buying for Christmas presents fur coats at from £200 to £400 and ultra-luxurious motorcars at£3,000 and £4,000. Pianos are popular with all classes.

Not London alone is affected by the Christmas shopping. The buying baccilli have infected all of England, and mail orders also have caused comment. They include all sorts or orders among which are demands for fine cloths at £3 and £4 a yard.

Christmas shopping began early in November, and soon reached such proportions that shopkeepers all over the city were discussing it with wonder. Some of their comments were:

"Most wonderful month in the firm's history."

"There is no limit to the amount customers will spend."

"Our returns have more than doubled since last month."

In attempting to account for the unprecedented shopping fever, storekeepers have attributed it to everything from postwar extravagance to the increased number of overseas friendships.

CHRISTMAS REVERIE OF A LIFE INSURANCE AGENT

Christmas Eve—and I sit by my fire of wood,
And there in its glowing find
Contentment and peace, in the visions of good
That my work has bestowed on mankind.
The flames bring me pictures of children at play,
Sturdy limbed, happy faced, full of glee—
Who've been amply shielded from want and dismay
Through policies written by me.

I see the reflection of homes held intact,
Though of fathers' protection bereft,
And widows and orphans made safe by the fact
Of insurance these fathers had left.

And to ponder that I, by my efforts alone,
Have brought aid in such measureless meed,
Brings a sweet satisfaction few salesmen have known,
Which is rare compensation indeed.

Though much worldly wealth my life's labor has brought,
As my efforts thus pass in review,
Yet greater than all, is the comforting thought
That others have profited too.

Oh, work is a drudge, if we figure the gain
In terms of mere dollars and cents;
But reckoned by what I've helped others attain,
My work is a vast recompense.
—Imperial Life.

STEEL BARGES TO PLY MISSISSIPPI

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 23.—(United Press).—New Orleans soon will be the home port for a new fleet of all-steel barges, designed to carry miscellaneous cargo and bulk oil on the Mississippi river.

These barges, now being constructed by the American Bridge Company of Pittsburgh, will have a capacity of 2000 tons of freight each on a draft of eight feet. One barge will be equal to forty ordinary freight cars in carrying capacity.

It is intended that barges of this type will be towed in groups of six by a twin-screw steel tunnel towboat.

CONDITIONS WILL BE ADJUSTED

If the volume of gold coin affects prices of commodities—if prices rise when money is plentiful and decline when the volume is lessened, as economists declare—a drop of prices is due to set in, since it is announced that wage scales and other costs have reached such a figure that it is no longer profitable to operate a considerable number of gold mines. The result is that the production of gold has declined materially.

Since our currency is based on gold, a reduced output of the precious metal must necessarily have restrictive influence on the volume of circulating medium. While prices have doubled, speaking generally, in five years, a gold dollar is the same now as before the war, though to dig the metal from the ground may cost twice as much as then and when dug it will buy only half so much.

A large proportion of gold mines produce low-grade ores. When the cost of digging and smelting the rock costs more than the gold obtained will bring, naturally the mine ceases to work, since the production of gold must pay a profit like any other business. It is the hope of sudden and huge profits that lured men to seek for gold, but the day of strikes big enough to have an appreciable effect on the supply may well be over. A large proportion of the metal is now produced by going deep into the earth and taking out ores that would have been nothing but worthless rock to the "forty-niner."

It may be that the evil excessive prices which we rail against and for which almost as many solutions are offered as there are individuals will, through the process of a restricted currency right itself. With too much gold its value, comparatively, falls and prices advance until production becomes unprofitable and is lessened. Then prices decline until the parity between gold and commodities is reached. This starts the resumption of gold seeking. If this theory is correct we have only to wait and prices will take the turn desired. Economic laws may do the job without our assistance.—Exchange.

WHAT WOULD HAPPEN TO MEXICO?

Just what notion Mr. Carranza may have of our celebrated state of Texas we may not hope to guess. It seems he has been laying plans to conquer it, with the aid of a couple of promoters or somebody and some Mexican money, and annex it to Mexico. What the —name of Sam Houston!

Well(we pass over the conquering part of Mr. Carranza's program. It's too painful to think of, even though Mexico may deserve all that would happen to her in such an undertaking. It is sufficient to think for a moment of what would happen to Mexico if Texas were really a part of it.

In such a case Mexico would be part of Texas. Texas would give Mexico a postmaster general and any other deserving Democrats it wanted to, whether Mexico deserved them or not. Texas would send its rangers out and they would bring in the entire 317 revolutions now going on there, all neatly numbered and tagged in their proper order and deliver them to the county marshal at Austin. Texas would introduce prohibition and manual labor into all parts of Mexico. She would introduce American elections, including the necessary voters. She would irrigate the deserts and sell them in town lots. She would raise a school house and an oil derrick in every township.

If Mr. Carranza has any other plans for Mexico than these, we would earnestly advise him not to conquer Texas. Let him go and cough down an active volcano, if any form of activity other than banditry is extant in Mexico, but leave Texas alone. It doesn't want to be conquered, and if not prodded and nagged won't be, but if Mexico insists on it and Texas loses patience and is annexed—it's goodbye Mex.

VICTIMS HELD FOR RANSOM

TOKIO, Nov. 22.—(By Mail to United Press).—Many armed bandits, who kidnap their victims and hold them for ransom, are causing alarm in Shanghai.

Ransoms demanded vary from as little as $10 to $50,000. Often promises to pay these sums are exacted by means of fearful tortures. One man was tortured by burning incense sticks placed against his body until he consented to pay an impossible sum.

These gangs generally are composed of about thirty men, although some number as high as fifty. They are always well provided with arms and ammunition. Raids by local soldiers on dens of the brigands have been of little avail, the soldiers usually returning much the worse for wear, minus the bandits.

Authorities believe it likely heads of some of the brigands soon will adorn the city gates. This was the fate of others captured here last spring.

OIL ON HOG CREEK; PIONEER WILL REST

DESDEMONA, Texas, Dec. 23.—(United Press).—Now that the crops are about gathered, Frank Hogg may take a vacation and see the sights in Dallas and Fort Worth.

Since 1882, when he came from Georgia to the little plot of ground that became known as "Hogg Creek"—now Desdemona—Frank Hogg has been busy with crops—waiting for a good one so he could have a vacation.

They're pretty good this year. And besides—

Last spring they struck oil about a mile from "Hogg Creek," and Hogg's 112 acres are now in the heart of production. For months Hogg has been drawing royalties of several thousand dollars a week.

"When are you going to take a vacation?" he was asked.

"Well, if the crops are good this year, I'll go up to Dallas or Fort Worth, I guess."

He is more than 70 years old.

STATE NEWS

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 24.—(United Press).—San Francisco welcomes General John J. Pershing today. He is scheduled to arrive at the Oakland mole at 1:10 p. m. His 28-hour stop is to be devoted mostly to a tour of inspection to include Letterman Hospital, the Presidio, coast defenses on both sides of the gate and the western department headquarters. General Pershing is to make an informal address to the American Legion. A conference also has been arranged with heads of the western department On his arrival he will be escorted to this side and up Market street to his hotel by a military and civilian committee.

AUBURN, Cal.—H. T. Dyer and his family are perplexed over the sudden disappearance from their home of a pet spiked buck deer, which had occupied a place in their household for several months. The Dyers occupy a large estate near town. The pet, raised by them, had been allowed every possible freedom. Dogs and cats and even chickens had grown fond of the little deer, and all now seem to miss it. The animal wore a collar with the owner's name inscribed. Dyer has offered a reward for its recovery.

SAN FRANCISCO.—Harvard varsity football team, on its way to Pasadena where it is to face the University of Oregon eleven New Year's day for the east-west championship, will be the guest of San Francisco Christmas day. During their brief stop here, the grid stars will be entertained by the local Harvard club. They are due to arrive in Los Angeles on the morning of December 26.
